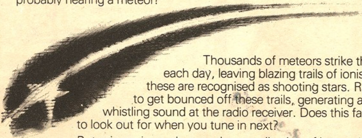
IF YOU HEAR A WHISTLE ON YOUR RADIO IT'S PROBABLY A METEOR.

Medium and shortwave listeners are often treated to sudden high pitched squeals on their favourite programmes. Would it surprise you to know, you were probably hearing a meteor?



Thousands of meteors strike the atmosphere each day, leaving blazing trails of ionised gas. At night, these are recognised as shooting stars. Radio waves tend to get bounced off these trails, generating a characteristic whistling sound at the radio receiver. Does this fact add something to look out for when you tune in next?

But science is much more than a collection of interesting oddities. And even as each new experience finds coherent explanation, technology finds ways of putting it to use... the digital watch on your hand, the microcomputer in your office, the communications satellite that brought you the last cricket test match. The science underlying these artefacts is less than three decades old!
